Introduction

VortexHealing® Divine Energy Healing is a healing modality that channels a very high frequency of energy which is an expression of Divine light and consciousness. There are 9 levels of healing classes, and each one is very meditation intensive, lasting 5-10 days.

There are many layers and aspects of the human energy system (see list below) from which VortexHealing can release emotional and karmic conditioning. Both the classes and individual healing sessions provide this type of release, and the result is an improvement in one's emotional experience and often physical conditions as well. Because the classes create so much acceleration and evolution of a student's energy system, many people take VortexHealing® classes simply for their own healing and spiritual development, rather than to become professional healers.

My own experience with VortexHealing® has been profound: a complete elimination of anxiety, a marked improvement in my feeling of self-worth, clearsentience, and overall energy level, and a surprising absence of colds and illnesses. Naturally, I am very enthusiastic to introduce this healing modality to a wider audience. It has been available since 1994, but it has yet to gain widespread recognition in the complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) arena.

Philosophy

"The philosophy of VortexHealing® is that all of life is One (One Source, One Consciousness, One Divinity), expressing itself as this amazing experience of creation. But because we have lost the awareness of that, our basic experience of life has become one of separation. We experience ourselves as a particular being that is essentially separate from everything else in creation and separate from the Universal Source of creation. This creates all kinds of issues and false identities, which over time (and lives) imprint and condition every level of our human system—our bodies, our minds, our emotions, and even our sense of spirituality. The web of this conditioning is incredibly, almost unimaginably deep, existing on multi-dimensional levels, and it completely distorts our experience of being human. In addition to creating a myriad of emotional issues, it also creates blockages in our human energy system, which generate weakness and physical disease. The intent of VortexHealing® is to release this conditioning on every level it is found, returning the person to emotional balance and energetic strength, so that health prevails." - Ric Weinman

Abstract

Energy healing is an alternative therapy intended for: balancing the energy pathways in our physical or subtle bodies, facilitating the body's innate healing mechanisms, and dissolving negative emotional patterns and conditioning. Studies have been conducted on many energy healing techniques, including Reiki, BodyTalk, Healing Touch, and Qigong.

I would like to introduce a novel energy healing modality called VortexHealing® Divine Energy Healing. Because the frequency of energy being channelled is extremely high, VortexHealing® students receive many hours of transmission per level of training, as compared to a few minutes of attunement per level of Reiki training. It has been in use for over 20 years, and while there are many anecdotal testimonials, to my knowledge only one formal study of this modality (its effects on seed germination, Creath 2004) has been performed.

For my PhD dissertation research at Sofia University, I will conduct a study on VortexHealing's efficacy on anxiety. I will identify 20-30 volunteers with no prior experience or knowledge of VortexHealing®, willing to receive two treatments, employing its most advanced technique, which is purported to release emotional conditioning at the upper-dimensional "Universal Assemblage Point." Participants will be asked to complete a pre- and post-treatment questionnaire, a post-treatment interview, and a 6 month follow-up interview. I will use no fewer than five healers, and we will focus on removing one topic of emotional conditioning in particular: survival fear, or "fear in a human body is unsafe." I will measure the test subjects' self-reported anxiety levels both before and after the energy healing session.

Areas of Release

1. Multi-Dimensional Personality Threads, both incarnational and genetic
2. Human Form Intelligence Fields
3. Luminous Egg / Assemblage Point / Reality Stream Level
4. Frameworks & Support: Divine Structures, Upper Dimensional Blueprints and Conditioning, Fixations
5. Consciousness Level: Identities, Karmic Mind, LifeField, Soul Consciousness.
6. Karmic & Pre-Karmic Expressions, incl. Ego Positions and Emotional Cores
7. Energy Pathways
8. Energy Bodies
9. Physical Body: genetics, epigenetics, biochemical pathways, fascia pathways, cellular and organ consciousness, genetic brain consciousness, genetic emotional patterns and clusters, subtle organ level, organism level (body/mind), archival body memory.
