

What We Do

Piper Companies is a specialized service provider, focused on delivering niche human capital solutions within the Commercial and Defense IT, Applications and Intelligence arenas. Our customers engage in world-class technology challenges and depend on us to provide highly specialized talent in support of their most critical functions, many of which are considered mission critical and/or critical to national security.

Lead From the Start

At top-heavy organizations, you have to wait in line to rise through the ranks. Not at Piper. We acknowledge and compensate stellar achievement and are always ready to help you find the next ceiling to shatter. We are actively looking for motivated self-starters with integrity who want to exceed early and often while taking ownership of their work. Piper has grown from $4 million in revenue at the end of 2012 to just under $14 million at the end of 2014. Our goal is to drive towards $50 million before the end of 2018 and because of that we have tremendous opportunities for sales minded individuals to make six figure salaries quickly, help with our expansion into new cities and markets, as well as earn promotions and leadership roles.
