RIS HIGGINS, LEADERSHIP OUTFITTERS

Ris Higgins is a leadership coach, author, and Vice-President of Leadership Outfitters, a Bozeman-based company that provides life-altering personal leadership development through one-on-one coaching, leadership retreats, one-on-one Intensive retreats, and teamwork. Her unique development company serves clients who are seeking to understand their habits that hinder so they can create their best life. She has worked with leaders and their teams since 1974, spending the last 21 years learning the joys and challenges of leading her own business with her husband.

Ris is a former Board President of the Prospera Business Network and currently serves on the Advisory Board for the Montana Women's Business Center who named her their 2011 Mentor of the Year. Over the past few years, she has volunteered her time as a mentor to seven women entrepreneurs, under the Montana WBC program. In 2012, the SBA named her first runner-up as the Women in Business Champion of the Year. Ris' personal mission is to make a difference. And she does.
