

There is a dire need for more clinics in Pakistan. Currently the country has only 5,600 primary-care facilities serving a population of 180 million people. That's 3 clinics for every 100,000!

Pakistan faces three major issues in the Primary healthcare sector: accessibility, quality, and affordability. The subsequent result is:

- 131 people die every day because of Tuberculosis
- 55 children die every day because of Measles
- 5,500 children die every day because of diarrhea [highest in the world]
- 195 children die every day because of Pneumonia
- 7.1 million people suffer from Diabetes

All of these diseases can either be prevented, cured, or managed through primary-care facilities, i.e. clinics
