The book is aimed at High School graduates. Mr. Brannock offers the advice and wisdom he wishes he'd had on a college campus 200 miles from home. His experiences, supported by Scripture, serve as a lighthouse.

David E. Brannock, a speaker and author who loves using analogies and teaching new perspectives. A Wofford College graduate, David has an MBA from the University of South Carolina and an MDiv from Duke University. He previously worked as a CPA, instructor, and pastor. He grew up on the coast of South Carolina and now lives in the mountains of East Tennessee with his family.
