

Leadership Development Series

Our Leadership Development training series addresses the recurring management challenges that every leader confronts on a daily basis. Register for one workshop or the whole series!

Session One – Leadership Essentials & Situational Leadership (Aug 24) This workshop builds on the foundation for knowing one's self as a leader and helping your team leaders align team members with your organization's strategic objectives. The recognition of task and relationships as two important dimensions of leader behavior will be explored through examining the styles of leadership.

Session Two – Managing Across Generations (Sept 21)

This session explores the general perceived differences between the employees from the different generations in communication, workplace improvement and employee effectiveness.

Session Three – Stress & Time Management (Oct 19)

The goals of this workshop are to help us understand the reason and attributes for stress and do a self-assessment on our level of stress. This workshop will also help you explore time management techniques.

Session Four – Managing Organizational Change (Nov 10)

A challenge for all organizations is how to initiate and sustain change. Organizational change is the responsibility of executive leadership and the quality of leadership provided is directly tied to organizational success.

Session Five – Emotional Intelligence (Dec 14)

This session explores the importance of using emotional intelligence for creating a stronger leadership model.
