

Of Bed Bugs, Clothing Closets, Thrift Stores and Church Ministries

Bed bugs are back in WV with a vengeance! And they don't care if you drive a Porsche or a Pinto. Bring home bed bugs, and you get more than you bargained for: infestations, perhaps thousands of dollars in extermination fees, loss of property, isolation and anxiety. Follow these tips to help avoid infesting your belongings, home, church and ministry.

What's a Bed bug?

Bed bugs wingless insects that feed on blood.

They prefer human blood, but will also feed on animals. Bed bugs are being seen more and more in apartments, hotels, homes, schools, hospitals, and dormitories. They crawl very fast, and can hide in clothing, second-hand furniture, suitcases, and boxes.

Carefully inspect the item(s) that you are interested in purchasing or receive as donations:

Pay particular attention to:

Bed Frames/Mattresses

End Tables/Dressers

Upholstered furniture

Clothing/Shoes

Stuffed Animals

Mirrors and picture frames

Check corners and crevices of furniture for signs of bed bug activity.

Bed bugs (reddish-brown), eggs (white), cast skins (yellow) and fecal dots (black).

When in Doubt: Get out! Or Leave it out!

If you think you see evidence of bed bugs, tell the proprietor and leave! OR Say thank you but no... It is OK to refuse a donation.

When you get home, wash everything that you wore in HOT water 120°≥F and use the drier on HIGH setting for 30 minutes, or dry clean.

Bring the Plastic

Take any treasures home in plastic bags that seal. (You can find brands such as Hefty and Ziploc in 3 – 22 gallon sizes.) Even a tightly tied plastic grocery or garbage bag is better than nothing, and put the bags in your car's trunk. If you buy furniture: inspect it carefully. Very, VERY, carefully.

Bring the Heat

Don't remove your $5 Prada dress from the plastic bag until you're ready to launder it. The first time from the bag, put it in the washer on HOT (120°≥F) and the drier on HIGH setting for 30 minutes, or dry clean.

If treatment is necessary, use a licensed pest management professional (exterminator). Nothing that you can buy over the counter is effective at killing bed bugs!

 P.S.: No dumpster diving!

If it's in a dumpster or garbage can: leave it there! Even if it's the PERFECT plant stand, the previous owner may have thrown it away because it is infested with bed bugs.
