

The ACT[®]

By: Laura S. Nata

Parents of students with disabilities, do you know about your son/daughters accommodations when taking an ACT test? Many miss the opportunity because it is not written on their accommodations page on their IEP and or 504 plans. Accommodations are available to students regardless of their educational placement.

If the student previously received testing accommodations under an Individualized Education Program (IEP) or a Section 504 Plan, he or she should generally receive the same testing accommodations for a current standardized exam or high-stakes test.

To this day we still get questions and complaints relating to excessive and or burdensome documentation demands, failures to provide needed testing accommodations, and failures to respond to requests for testing accommodations in a timely manner. Parents, educators and students are encouraged to join us.

ACT Test Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: ACT Test Accommodations staff will provide information about the accommodations request process for the ACT, including policies for supporting documentation, types of available accommodations and application procedures.

Date: Wednesday, December 9, 2015

Time: 12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Guest Presenter: Katie A. Featherston, The ACT, J.D. Senior Manager
