California Civic Learning Statewide Showcase

There has never been a better – or a more crucial time - to revitalize civic learning in California. The health and future of our democracy calls upon schools to prepare students for a lifetime of knowledgeable, engaged, and active citizenship. Students, educators, and community members are invited to this very special showcase event to see what schools are doing to institutionalize civic learning to prepare ALL students for civic life in the 21st century.

Hear from state and local officials about the civic learning movement in California. Enjoy engaging student presentations that feature the California Democracy School Civic Learning Initiative directed by the Los Angeles County Office of Education and the Action Civics Initiative directed by the Sacramento County Office of Education.
