The Northern California Chapter Codes & Standards Committee will host its Annual Luncheon for Building Officials, Electrical Building Inspectors and Code Inspectors.

About the Presenter: Michael Johnston is NECA's Executive Director of Standards & Safety. Mike is currently the Chairman of the NEC Correlating Committee. Among his responsibilities for managing the codes, standards, and safety functions for NECA, Mike is secretary of the NECA Codes and Standards Committee. Johnston is a member of the IBEW and is an active member of ANSI, IAEI, NFPA, ASSE, the NFPA Electrical Section, the UL Electrical Council, and National Safety Council.

About the Seminar: Mike Johnston will speak about major changes in the 2014 (NEC) National Electrical Code and significant changes that are coming in the next edition of the NEC-2017. The key areas of the talk will be on energy management, energy storage, large-scale PV installations and micro-grids. Changes relating to rapid shut-down requirements for solar photovoltaic systems on buildings will also be discussed.
