CORY SCHNEIDER of Somerset, New Jersey, is a past president of Women's League for Conservative Judaism. She is also past chair of the Leadership Council of Conservative Judaism. Currently, she serves Women's League as a trainer and member of various committees. She sits on the Executive Committee and Board of Directors. Cory has been active in her synagogue, in Women's League and in her community for many years. She was President of Chisuk Emuna Sisterhood in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania before becoming president of the Eastern Pennsylvania Branch. Following this Cory rose quickly on the international level. She chaired, among others, Public Relations, Training Services, Branch Presidents Conference, Strategic Planning, Leadership Institute, the Future State Committee, and Torah Fund. Cory remains active in her new synagogue, Neve Shalom in Metuchen, New Jersey. Over the years she has received awards from the United Jewish Federation of Harrisburg, USY and the Mid-Atlantic Region of United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism. Before moving to New Jersey, Cory served as administrator of Guidance Associates, a psychological services agency in Camp Hill, PA. She does freelance work as a public relations and marketing consultant. She is married and has three children and ten grandchildren.

OUR PRESIDENT, ANNE SCHIMBERG
