

Colin Romberger

Colin began his career as a Scouting professional with the Pennsylvania Dutch Council in May, 2009. During the first two years of his career, he served as the District Executive for ScoutReach programs, before being promoted to Senior District Executive of the PA Dutch Council's Horse-Shoe Trail District in 2011. As a Senior District Executive, Colin has provided leadership and support to the HST District's Units and Volunteers; leading to 3 years of Silver Recognition and one Gold Recognition in the BSA's District Journey to Excellence program.

An Eagle Scout and graduate of Penn State University, Colin and his wife Meghan have three children: Madison, age 3, and Connor and Sophie (twins), age 2. Before joining the BSA; Colin worked as a skydiving instructor and equipment distributor. He also worked as an immigration specialist and corporate accounts manager for an immigration firm in London, England.

Colin enjoys riding his 2008 Harley Davidson Sportster, utilizing his private pilot license, and enjoying time outdoors with his wife and children.
