VICTORIA ANGEL REGISTRY OF HOPE

We frequently hear stories of individuals, often children, who are desperately trying to find a stem cell match for a life-saving treatment following bone marrow damage or disease. Sarah Watkin valiantly fought leukemia and the effects of radiation and chemotherapy. Unfortunately, she needed a bone marrow transplant and could not find a matching stem cell donor. Sadly, she passed away over a year ago. This shouldn't happen to patients and their families! Our charity can help.

Victoria Angel Registry of Hope is an accredited public cord blood bank. Our charity accepts donated umbilical cord blood from new parents and their babies. We extract and freeze the stem cells. Each stored sample is tissue-typed and made available for patients and physicians around the world.

Your generous financial assistance helps us to collect and store more cord blood so that we can help those who depend on a stem cell transplant.
