

Training & Certification

Contribute a little or a lot, you have total control. After training and certification in your chosen field, you will be able to respond to calls for service (some local, others farther away). You have control over which calls to respond to. There is no quota. Certifications are good for three years.

You decide the area of interest and service, then sign up for the training.

The closest training to us is Lynn Haven (Panama City area) on May 30, 2015. So plan now.

Quick FAQs

Who should attend this training? (1) Anyone who wants to become a new volunteer in the Florida Baptist Disaster Ministry or (2) Any previously trained volunteer who wants additional training or needs to retrain due to expired credentials. (Volunteers must retrain every 3 years)
Why do I have to be trained to be a volunteer? Emergency Management Officials now require all volunteers to be credentialed by an organization like ours before they are allowed to work in a disaster response area. Our training is designed to meet these requirements and prepare volunteers to do effective ministry when called upon.
How do I register? There is no pre-registration. Register at the event site between 8:30 AM & 9:00 AM the day of the event.
What about lunch? Lunch is prepared by trained feeding volunteers on one of our feeding units at the event.
Why is there a fee to attend? The cost of training a new volunteer is more than $60. The fee is to help us offset some of the costs.
What about time zones? The schedule is based on the time zone of the event site.
Why isn't there an event closer to me? The training season can only be done between March and June because we have to be ready to respond to our most likely disaster, hurricanes, between July –October. With a limited number of weekends available, we have to do regional events. Our goal is to have at least 1 event within a 2 1/2 hour drive for volunteers to attend. We move the sites to different associations from year to year within specific regions.
How old do you need to be to attend training? Everyone can attend the training. Anyone under 18 will be considered a Youth. Youth cannot be called out on their own and will need to respond with their credentialed legal guardian. Youth do not have to pay the registration fee and will ONLY receive a "youth" badge and lunch that day.
Will background checks be mandatory? Yes. The Florida Baptist Convention has now added this requirement to continue the practice of protecting those whom we serve.

PASTOR'S thoughts...

One of our blessings as members of First Baptist is to welcome all the guests who visit with us. In spite of the rain at church time last week, we still had a number of people visit our services. It was a pleasure talking with most of them by phone this week. We are honored to have you in our worship service today and trust you will experience a warm welcome.

One of the first things any prospective Pastor will ask our Search Committee is "what is the commitment level of attendance on the part of the members at First Baptist"? You are going to play an important part in the caliber of Pastor who comes to serve at First Baptist. He will examine our church as much as our Search Committee examines him. Your consistency in attendance, opportunities for ministry outside the walls of our church family, potential in building God's Kingdom locally, and vision of reaching a lost world will be on his priority list. YOU are a part of all these things. I trust you will make your church one of the top priorities of your life.

Dr. McInnis and Bro. Austin have just completed visits with four of the principals of our local schools. All of these principals invite us as a church to assist in meeting some critical needs of their schools. We welcome the opportunity to minister.

I shall be preaching in all three services today. Let us pray for one another today.

Dr. Jerry Passmore, Interim Pastor

MISSION PROJECT: Our Girls in Action group is asking for your help with our international mission project Pure Water Pure Love. With the help of hundreds of churches, PWPL provides thousands of water filters to missionary families and helps fund clean water projects by providing wells that offer clean water. Some of the areas of the world that are receiving this ministry are Indonesia, Asia, North Africa, Haiti, and here in the U.S. in Idaho. The girls have made 100 coin banks from empty water bottles. They will be handing these out before and after worship services today. Please take a bottle home and use it to collect your loose change for one month. Return the filled bottles to the church on Sunday, May 17. Your change can make a change in the lives of others!

Baby dedication is a symbolic ceremony undertaken by Christian parents after the birth of a child. There is no implied salvation in the ceremony. The rite is intended to be a public statement by the parents that they will train their children in the Christian faith and seek to instill that faith in them. The congregation also affirms that they, as a church family, will seek to encourage the parents to bring up the child in the faith.
