

Creating Health Equity on Long Island: A Digital Storytelling Approach
Hofstra University

Digital Storytelling Workshop

August 3-5, 2015

Do you want learn how to make a short video about your health experiences to raise awareness?

Are you interested in advocacy for health equity on Long Island?

Do you want to share your story of inequity to help others?

We are seeking individuals and/or members of organizations committed to social justice from Long Island that would like to share their experiences by creating digital stories.

Interested participants must be able to commit to a 3-day digital storytelling workshop that will be conducted at Hofstra from August 3-5th, 2015. A stipend and meals will be provided for all who participate.

If interested, please go to this link and fill out our short application:

<http://goo.gl/forms/zv1yOx0fHR>

Please contact Dr. Martine Hackett for more information on this exciting research project!

Principal Investigator:

Dr. Martine Hackett

Phone: (516) 463-6517

Email: martine.hackett@hofstra.edu