WHERE HAVE ALL THE PRIESTS and BROTHERS, SISTERS AND NUNS GONE? Back in the day there was a Pete Seeger song called “Where Have All the Flowers Gone?” and sung by Peter, Paul and Mary. Today we often hear, “Where have all the Sisters gone?” but it’s a question that could be applied to the priests and brothers as well. Unlike the flowers that passed away the sisters, brothers, priests and nuns are alive and well. Many people today have memories of sisters, nuns, brothers but there are others who have only a vague understanding of consecrated life in the Church. Everyone is called to a particular vocation and it takes time to come to know what that is. It may be vowed religious life, marriage, the single life or priesthood. One vocation is the call to consecrated life in the Church. In 2013 Pope Francis declared that a Year of Consecrated Life (YCL) be celebrated throughout the world. It would begin on the First Sunday of Advent, November 30, 2014. It would close on February 2, 2016. The Pope underlined the aims of the Year of Consecrated Life, namely to look to the past with gratitude, to live the present with passion and to embrace the future with hope.

The logo ‘Wake Up the World” comes from Pope Francis’ challenge to those in consecrated life: to be witnesses of communion, of joy and the Gospel, and go everywhere to the peripheries to proclaim the Good News. “I am counting on you to ‘wake up the world’. This is the priority that is needed now. But we know that the vast majority of vocations to the priesthood and/or religious life start and are nurtured in the family home.

In order to celebrate the YCL at St. Brigid of Kildare several presentations will be offered. These will help all of us to learn more about the consecrated life of religious men and women. I hope to see you there and know that you will be very welcomed.

   Women & Spirit: Catholic Sisters in America
   This DVD narrates the virtually untold story of women who exercised leadership at a time when few women enjoyed such possibilities. Theirs is a story of quiet courage during many dramatic moments in U.S. history. Discover the mystery behind this small community of innovative women who helped shape the nation’s social, cultural, and spiritual landscape. This will bring back many memories.

   Trailblazers in Habits is an intimate portrait of a group of American nuns, the Maryknoll Sisters, who have accompanied the disenfranchised in their struggle for social justice. By turns tragic and joyous, yet always very courageous. This youtube is a revealing portrait of these courageous women. This particular clip focuses on their work in Hong Kong. You get a glimpse of the intelligence and tenacity, the love, compassion and generosity of the missionaries.
