Community supported agriculture (CSA) is a partnership of mutual commitment between a farm and a community of farm members. By participating in Common Thread CSA, I understand that while the farmers are committed to the best of their ability to provide high quality produce, there are risks in agriculture and I am prepared to share in the risks of the farm as well as the bounty. I also understand that it is my responsibility to pick up my share each week throughout the 2015 growing season.

CSA, or community supported agriculture, is a partnership of mutual commitment between a farm and a community of supporters – CSA members make a commitment to support the farm throughout the season, assuming the risks and bounty of growing food along with the farmer. The farm provides, to the best of its ability, a healthy supply of seasonal fresh produce throughout the growing season. CSA promotes a responsible relationship between people and the food they eat, the land on which it is grown, and those who grow it.

Your Share

Delivered box shares will contain 8-10 different types of fresh vegetables from the farm and are designed to feed 2-3 adults or a small family each week. We grow a wide variety of vegetables on the farm using organic methods. You are always welcome to visit the farm and harvest pick your own crops as available during the season.
