

This was my first year at the games and I had an amazing time! It was so fun to be around everyone who was truly happy and excited to be there! Athletes, family members and spectators were all there having a great time! It was impossible not to join and share the same excitement. During the opening ceremonies I was able to experience the pride all the athletes felt while their group was announced during the parade. On Saturday, I was able to help out at the family picnic. This was also a great experience and fun talking to everyone who attended the picnic. Everyone was open to talk and so thankful for the event. Going to the games is something that I will never forget and can't wait to go back next year!
