

Dorminy Medical Center Mammography

Caren Greer plays a vital role at Dorminy Medical Center and in the community's fight against breast cancer. Greer is the hospital's mammographer, a position she has held for almost three years. Greer is passionate about her work and stresses the importance of the early detection that a mammogram can provide. "A mammogram is a screening tool that is used to find irregular masses. Having them yearly could save your life," she says. She knows the significance of building personal relationships with her patients. Her goal is to have a good rapport with them so they feel comfortable coming back. "Sometimes people get upset about things that are out of their control. I'm here to lessen that anxiety and I enjoy taking care of my patients and their needs," she says.

More Good News For Dorminy

Dorminy Medical Center is pleased to announce that the Mammography Department has been inspected and accredited for another 3 years by the American College of Radiology (ACR). The accreditation is based on categories that include: judgment of the technologists work, the quality control program, and quality of the images produced by our breast imaging equipment and the radiologist's interpretation of the images. The ACR randomly selects images and they were reviewed by three individual radiologists from across the country. The Dorminy Medical Center Mammography Technologist, Caren Greer, RT (R) (M) and the mammography department in our women's center were found to have performed professional work and expert technique. Dorminy Medical Center is very proud of David Davis, Laboratory and Medical Imaging Director, Caren Greer, Mammography Technologist, and the Radiology Department for all of their hard work and commitment to excellence.
