CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

PLOT is the annual journal produced by the Master of Landscape Architecture students of the City College of New York's Spitzer School of Architecture. The theme of PLOT Volume 2 is PATCHWORK. Used both as a noun and a verb, patchwork carries multiple interpretations: a composition of incongruous parts, an ad-hoc assemblage, a disparate array establishing a cohesive pattern. A patchwork technique might explore the idea of the landscape as a quilt of seemingly disparate spaces, joined together in new or revelatory ways. Patchwork might also be considered as a strategic makeshift or temporary measure, on the ground or in the books.

PATCHWORK submissions are open to all: students, professors, practitioners, collaborators, and friends. Submissions may be of material in any form that is printable: drawings, texts, interviews, photography, maps, haiku, or anything else you can stitch together.

Please feel free to speak with any member of the Editorial Board (MLA Second Year students) to discuss your ideas and thoughts, and send your material as an MS Word document or high resolution image via email to plotjournal@gmail.com. THE DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSIONS HAS BEEN EXTENDED TO FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2013.

Sincerely,
The PLOT Editorial Board
