

SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS:

Four book awards and a medal award were also distributed at this ceremony. Book awards are a way to honor high school juniors and acknowledge particular students who have distinguished themselves as well rounded students, focusing on academics, volunteerism in the community as well as PMA, and additionally have an overall good moral fiber. The guidance department has the tough job of choosing the students to receive these awards. Faith Stewart, '17, received the book award from St. Anselm College. Marisa George, '17 and Sean Toomey, '17 both received the book award for Saint Michael's College. Eryn McGuinness, '17 received the book award for Wheeling Jesuit University, which also included a $1,000 scholarship and Hannah Alvino, '17 received the book award from Regis University.

Matthew Whinery was the medal award recipient for Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Rhode Island. If Matthew decides to attend Rensselaer, he will get a $25,000 scholarship renewable each year, for four years.

Angela Walukevich, '17
Blessed Anne Marie Rivier
Full Tuition Scholarship Winner

One of the biggest scholarships announced at the ceremony is the Blessed Anne Marie Rivier Full Tuition Scholarship. Annually, this scholarship is funded by the Carace family and is awarded to one junior for senior year. For each scholarship offered, including the Blessed Anne Marie Rivier Full Tuition Scholarship, student applicants must write an essay and apply. After submission, the names are removed from the essay and the winners are picked blindly from a scholarship committee.

Because of her powerful and inspirational essay, Angela Walukevich, '17 was the winner of this years Blessed Anne Marie Rivier Full Tuition Scholarship. We are all very happy and excited for Angela. Congratulations to Angela and to all of the scholarship and award winners. It truly was a great way to end the school year.
