

How has the PD7A improved?

1. The first page will display the most important information – remitter type, due dates, and year-to-date remittance account balance.
2. The remittance account transactions and arrears account transactions will be separated in table format on the second page followed by explanations as needed.
3. Additional CRA services you may be interested in are highlighted. This includes online services, Direct Deposit, My Business Account, and operator-assisted relay services to help persons with hearing or visual impairments.

The simplified PD7A is part of the Government of Canada's commitment to make the CRA more client-focused and more helpful by improving the ways the CRA communicates with Canadians.

For a simpler, more convenient way to access your CRA business correspondence, go online to cra.gc.ca/mybusinessaccount or visit cra.gc.ca/noticesandletters for more information regarding these changes.