

Jennifer Sherman

Dean of Business and Advanced Technology
Pueblo Community College

Ms. Sherman began her career in Public Relations and Marketing, after completing a bachelor's degree in Mass Communications. She transitioned into teaching at Pueblo Community College in the Center for New Media where she served as department chair, instructor and advisor. Ms. Sherman earned an MBA and is currently the Dean of Business & Advanced Technology, overseeing 18 departments such as computer science, business, advanced manufacturing, automotive technology and culinary arts. Additionally, the division has launched Pueblo Corporate College which is responsible for non-credit training and professional development, in addition to the services of the Southern Colorado SBDC.