

JOY OF ART AND SUMMER

Sunlight plays in the artist's garden of colors. Celebrate our thirteenth year and bring joyous art to your spring and summer with new classes from the Children's Art School. Discover art that explores the world and lets the imagination soar. The Children's Art School develops in depth art programs for young artists that teach about art methods and materials to nurture creative thinking. Class preregistration is required, ages are suggestions and fees include all art materials. Our location is 2160 South Cook Street, Denver, in the University Park neighborhood. For more information on our programs, contact the Children's Art School at 303 369-7956.

MORE ABOUT THE CHILDREN'S ART SCHOOL

The Children's Art School was established with the belief that creating art is an integral component of a child's cognitive and personal development. The Children's Art School is devoted to nurturing a child's artistic and aesthetic growth. Our programs are for the interested and talented student who wants more art enrichment than is available in the traditional school setting. The courses stress creative thinking skills by engaging children in the process of giving ideas form. Our classes involve children in the creative process and are not focused primarily on producing art projects. The courses are put in an art historical or cultural context to promote aesthetic literacy. The Children's Art School is directed by Jo Duranceau who is an educator for museums and schools. Ms. Duranceau has a Bachelor of Arts in Art Education, a Master of Arts in Art History and a Colorado Teaching License with a K-12 Art Endorsement. She has originated numerous children's programs including Denver Art Museum, Botanic Gardens and Arvada Center series.

TO REGISTER FOR THE JOY OF ART, first call the Children's Art School to check on class availability at 303 369-7956 and then mail your Registration Form and payment to the Children's Art School, PO Box 102242, Denver, Colorado 80250. DEBIT or CREDIT CARD payments can also be arranged.

THE CHILDREN'S ART SCHOOL IS LOCATED in the Carriage House of the Fitzroy Mansion, 2160 South Cook Street at Accelerated Schools in the University Park neighborhood.

ACCELERATED SCHOOLS is an award winning private school serving highly gifted students, grades 1 through 12 with individualized learning strategies taught by dedicated teachers to optimize academic achievement in the historic Fitzroy Mansion.

SWEET PEAS for Moms and Young Artists meets at WASHINGTON STREET COMMUNITY CENTER, WSCC, celebrating 47 years of service with preschool, family and senior programs.
