

Highlights of Mr. Xi's Schedule

In the evening of September 22, Mr. Xi will deliver a major policy speech at a dinner for business leaders and other dignitaries, including former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, sponsored by the National Committee on United States-China Relations and the U.S.-China Business Council.

The next day Mr. Xi takes part in a round-table discussion with chief executives sponsored by Henry M. Paulson Jr., chairman of the Paulson Institute at the University of Chicago and a former Treasury secretary. He will also visit Boeing's factory in Everett, Wash., its largest production site for commercial aircraft. China is a huge Boeing customer.

In the evening Mr. Xi will attend the U.S.-China Internet Industry Forum, hosted by Microsoft and the Internet Society of China, with Lu Wei, the Chinese official in charge of Internet policy, and guests who could include Robin Li of Baidu, Jack Ma of Alibaba and executives from Apple, Facebook, Google, IBM and Uber.

On September 24 Mr. Xi leaves for Washington, where he will have a working dinner at the White House with President Obama, Secretary of State John Kerry and Susan E. Rice, the president's national security adviser.

On September 27 Mr. Xi is scheduled to make opening remarks and to serve as chairman of the first session the Global Leaders' Meeting on General Equality and Women's Empowerment: A Commitment to Action.

On September 28 Mr. Xi speaks at the United Nations' 70th anniversary session.