

Job Seeker Success Story

Workforce Central Helps Connect the ‘Chain’

Vito Ventura is a Senior Supply Chain professional with more than 20 years of experience. He has an MBA degree and experience working with very successful companies. Now tasked with finding a new job, Vito was very focused on landing one with another top company. Vito came to Workforce Central’s Worcester office and took several workshops with Career Counselor Bob DePetro, including job search strategies. “He was a strong participant with many questions, and he was very complimentary about the workshops,” said Bob when asked about Vito. “He mentioned the Hidden Job Market, Networking, Mock Interview, and LinkedIn Profile Critique as being especially helpful,” Bob added. After searching for 3½ months, Vito used the knowledge gained from the Workforce Central workshops and landed a Senior Supply Chain position with Oracle in Burlington, MA.

Vito is an excellent example of how much Workforce Central can make a difference in job searches for high level professionals.
