

Job Seeker Success Story - Milford

Christopher Pike, a local job seeker from Milford, Massachusetts has been utilizing the services offered at the Workforce Central Career Center located in Milford. Christopher was in search of employment for five months. The barriers and troubles Christopher faced included the fact that he was new to the job search process and not specifically focused on one industry. Christopher heard about the Career Center services through filing for unemployment assistance and paying a visit to the Career Center for an orientation.

The Workforce Central Career Center staff feels as though Christopher was fully committed and engaged with the career center by working with Tom Lambert. Tom arranged an interview with Reebok through his network for the customer; and although he didn't get the job he was able to gain valuable experience in relating to a company the value he can bring to them. Soon afterwards, Christopher was able to get a job with Miele USA, and he is thrilled about working for this company as a Sales Manager.
