

DOCENDO DISCIMUS
By teaching we learn

INVESTIGANDO CRESCIMUS
Through research we grow

UNIVERSITY OF SAN DIEGO RESEARCH WEEK 2016

MONDAY, APRIL 11

4 - 5:30 p.m. | Peace and Justice Theatre

Kickoff Event and Reception

The president, provost and deans will speak about external funding over the past year. Reception will follow at the Garden of the Sea.

TUESDAY, APRIL 12

10 a.m. - 12 p.m. | Loma Hall

Shiley Marcos School of Engineering Lab Tours

Tour the Cymer Ideation Space, Donald's Garage prototyping lab and project fabrication facilities. Examples of research collaborations between students and faculty members will also be displayed.

12 - 1 p.m. | Serra Hall

Behavioral Neuroscience Lab Tours

Tour the newly renovated behavioral neuroscience laboratories. See research in action, focusing on sleep, learning, memory and other exciting brain-based topics.

12 - 2 p.m. | Colachis Plaza

Mathigami

USD students and community teachers collaborate to teach mathematics through origami to K-12 students. Join us and help build a giant origami firework.

1 - 3 p.m. | Shiley Center for Science and Technology

College of Arts and Sciences Lab Tours

See several of USD's finest scientific laboratories where faculty members work on chemistry and biology investigations, environmental and ocean science, and physics.

2:30 - 4 p.m. | Warren Auditorium, Mother Rosalie Hill Hall

Social Justice Integrated Capstone

Faculty members from communication studies, English, political science and sociology designed their courses to be integrated throughout the semester through shared readings, lectures, field trips and presentations. Students work with each other in interdisciplinary teams that encourage them to investigate complex issues of immigration and to explore potential solutions that involve partnerships between the campus and local communities.

3 - 3:45 p.m. | Hahn University Center, Room 107

Conversations With the College

Celebrate the breadth of scholarly work ongoing at USD. Speakers share exciting aspects of their work that appeal to a general audience.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13

12 - 2 p.m. | Olin Hall, Room 342

School of Business Student-Faculty Dialogue

Faculty members will discuss research topics, experiential education activities and opportunities for participation in academic competitions, and provide leadership tips to current and prospective students.

12:30 - 2 p.m. | Joan B. Kroc Institute for Peace and Justice

Kroc School of Peace Studies Open House

Learn about innovative research initiatives in peacebuilding and social innovation, including a discussion on how drones are being used in humanitarian and advocacy work. Kroc graduate students will share how they became co-authors of the first Global Drone Report, a unique effort to catalog nonmilitary drone use.

2 - 3:30 p.m. | Bishop Buddy Sala, Mother Rosalie Hill Hall

School of Leadership and Education Sciences Open House

Hear about research initiatives in education, leadership, counseling, and nonprofits. Speak with faculty members, students and staff from all departments as well as from the Nonprofit Institute, Leadership Institute, and the Mobile Technology Learning Center.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14

12 - 2:15 p.m. | Hahn University Center

Creative Collaborations Undergraduate Research Conference

Multidisciplinary presentations of student-faculty research, scholarship and creative works. The Office of Undergraduate Research, in partnership with the Sexual Assault Awareness Group and the Campus Assault Resources and Education Group, will highlight research and creative works by undergraduates on gender studies topics.

5 - 6:30 p.m. | Warren Auditorium, Mother Rosalie Hill Hall

Distinguished Visiting Professor Lecture

Dr. Nicole Weekes, professor of neuroscience at Pomona College, will tell us about becoming an African American woman in STEM.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15

12:15 - 2:15 p.m. | Salomon Hall, Maher Hall

Distinguished Visiting Professor Workshop

Join the AFFIRM program and Dr. Nicole Weekes, professor of neuroscience at Pomona College, for a workshop outlining best practices for recruitment and retention of women and ethnic minorities in the STEM fields.

3:30 - 4:30 p.m. | Copley Library

Fight for Your Rights!

Learn how to protect your rights during the publishing process, retain your copyright when you publish, disseminate your scholarship more broadly and examine alternative publishing venues. Hear about cutting-edge open access publishing options and open access repositories that increase your online visibility and citation rates.

MONDAY, APRIL 11 THROUGH FRIDAY, APRIL 15

9 a.m. - 5 p.m. | Hahn University Center

Mulvaney Center Exhibit

The Mulvaney Center and the Changemaker Hub partner with the office of Undergraduate Research and others to foster civic-minded leaders by supporting students and faculty who engage in local and global community-based research.

9 a.m. - 5 p.m. | Hahn University Center

Veterans Center Exhibit

Learn what the USD Veterans Center is doing to lead the way in addressing the unique needs of our military-connected population. The three-phase approach used by the Veterans Center has been recognized nationally as one of the top programs in the nation.

12 - 5 p.m. | David W. May American Indian Gallery, Serra Hall

The May Collection: Twenty Works for Twenty Years

This exhibition of 20 artifacts and works of art includes a new work from renowned Kumeyaay basketmaker, Eva Salazar.

12 - 5 p.m. | Fine Art Galleries, Joan B. Kroc Institute for Peace and Justice

I Witness: Social Justice Documentary and Street Photography

Works from the Great Depression and Civil Rights eras to the present day will be on display, along with works by current USD students.

12 - 5 p.m. | Robert and Karen Hoehn Family Galleries, Founders Hall

Love is Here to Stay (And That's Enough): The Prints of Sister Corita

Sister Corita entered the Immaculate Heart of Mary convent of Hollywood in 1938, studied art at USC, and was a renowned teacher. This exhibition of more than 50 vibrant serigraphs includes work from all parts of her career.

Research Week is free and open to the public, so please join us! For more information, visit www.sandiego.edu/osp.