Stop Security Plates

Thanks to all who attended the Building Security presentation on September 8th. Since then, I have received several requests for the STOP Security Plate, recommended as a laptop anti-theft and recovery product. The benefits of the plate are-

1) highly visible ownership and warning label that would be an obvious liability for any would-be thief

2) if stolen, the prominently displayed plate and the tattoo beneath it can serve to remove any value on the resale market

3) if lost, the plate is marked with a unique registration number that can significantly increase the chance of recovery by providing an easy way for the finder to return it to you.

The cost of the plate is FREE for students and a mere $ 10 for Stanford employees, staff, and faculty.

If you would like more information, or to arrange for the installation of a plate on your laptop, please contact me, william.larson@stanford.edu

Keep safe!
