One of the most important things you can do with your child is READ.

We hope that these suggestions will help guide you and your family along the path to literacy.

Discover what our National Parks have to offer. Visit their online site:

Calling all fourth graders! Did you know that you and your family can visit any national park for free this summer?

This year's pass expires on August 31. So if you are in the fourth grade, visit <https://www.everykidinapark.gov/> to print out the pass.

Books are also available at your public library. Be sure to check out the Orange County Public Library website to get the latest information on their summer reading program.
