

Weekday event a success at Oregon Golf Club By Linda Erickson, Event Captain

We played at Oregon Golf Club on May 24, on a Tuesday. I was told that we wouldn't get this event filled because it was on a weekday, but were they wrong! It filled up fast and we had a waiting list. I asked for two additional tee times and we filled those, too. It turned out to be a perfect day, cool and a little cloudy with some sun breaks.

Everyone was very impressed with the course. It was in great shape and although hilly and new to most of us, it was not as difficult as I had feared. I didn't hear about any particularly spectacular shots, but we had some good scores.

The response was that most wanted to have this on our event schedule again, which I am sure we can do.

After play, we met in the clubhouse restaurant and the food was very good but the wait staff was a bit overwhelmed by our group. They are not used to being paid in cash or credit cards, because Oregon Golf Club members usually pay with their own accounts.

If you missed this event, hopefully you will get an opportunity to play the course. It is well worth it.
