

Volunteer caddies still needed for LPGA pro-am

Meet the players, see shots up-close and listen in on banter and golf tips. Be a caddy for the amateurs playing in the Pro-Am on Wednesday, June 29, as part of the LPGA Cambia Portland Classic.

As an incentive, Trillium will enter volunteer caddies' names into a drawing for a gift card to use at a Hallmark Inns & Resorts Oregon Coast location. If a person you refer signs up to caddy, you will receive another entry into the prize drawing.

Trillium Family Services, the largest provider of mental and behavioral healthcare for children and families in Oregon, receives a charitable donation in return for providing caddies for the event.

You don't need to tell your golfer how to play the course or what club to use. You will need to walk all 18 holes at Columbia Edgewater using a push/pull cart, wipe down your player's clubs; hand her or him clubs, balls and tees; and watch where wayward balls go.

Trillium provides caddies with golf caps, polo shirts and snacks. Caddies wear their own khaki pants.
