

Ecumenical Theological Seminary

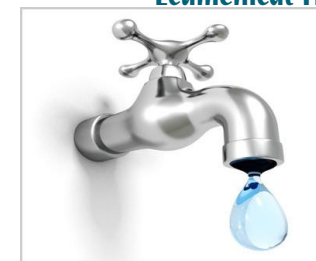

'Detroit, Water and the Bible'

Workshop presented by James Perkinson, Ph.D.

Dr. James Perkinson,

Professor of Ethics and Systematic Theology at the Ecumenical Theological Seminary

Cost:

ETS Students: $150

Community: $250

Register at: <http://bit.ly/January2016Workshop>

ETS Students should register through the student information system <https://ets.populiweb.com/>

Workshop will be held at the

Ecumenical Theological Seminary

The Rev. Dr. Stephen Butler Murray, President

2930 Woodward Avenue

Detroit, Michigan 48201

313.831.5200

www.etseminary.edu

Friday, January 29, 2016, 4PM-7PM
and
Saturday, January 30, 2016, 9:30AM-4PM

Workshop Description: Jesus was a water warrior! This workshop examines the complex issues surrounding water that are emerging as a global crisis that will affect 2/3 of the world's population by 2025. That crisis is already here in Detroit and will continue to be an issue for the foreseeable future as it spreads out to affect suburbs. And what has happened in Flint now stands as a "theological sign of the times" that demands sharp response and careful deciphering. We will explore in depth the way the bible relates to water and how the church can respond in both word and deed in a time of growing apocalypse.

Community: This is an outstanding Continuing Education opportunity for many members. Also, for those who have mandated professional Continuing Education Units (CEU's) to complete, please check with your professional organizations to see if these workshops can be used to fulfill those requirements.

Current Student Graduation Requirements:
UMD and MAPM must attend two ten-hour workshops
MDiv must attend three ten-hour workshops.

Ecumenical Theological Seminary is accredited by the Commission on Accrediting of the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada, and the following degree programs are approved: MDiv, MA in Pastoral Ministry, DMin.