Develop your project for European Jewish culture in Stockholm this summer

The Paideia Project-Incubator is a program for activists and innovators for European Jewish culture who want to develop projects in the educational, cultural, communal, intercultural and institutional fields, to date coaching over 190 project throughout Europe.

In a unique pan-European setting, the program offers you an experienced international faculty, and an intensive, effective study program including lectures, workshops, peer support, individual tutoring and Jewish content counseling – all aimed at promoting, guiding and advancing your project.

Paideia Project-Incubator gives you:

- ▶ A pan-European network
- ▶ The tools and knowledge you need to get your project off the ground or to the next stage
- ▶ Broadened Jewish cultural horizons
- ▶ Experienced tutoring - from project conceptualization and developing Jewish content – to fundraising and hands-on tools for project implementation
- ▶ The inclusion in a 500 member strong community of Paideia graduates from all over Europe, and access to the Paideia alumni conference in locations across Europe, each year gathering 100 people changing the European Jewish scene
