Pentecost and Baptism: Acting on Faith

On Pentecost, Jesus charged his disciples to act in his stead, to show their faith to a skeptical world, to be the hands, feet and heart of Jesus as they traveled through uncertain times.

On Sunday, May 15, we will celebrate Pentecost, along with the baptism of 11 young people and one adult. Our baptism candidates have been formally preparing for this day since Ash Wednesday, with weekly meetings with our ministers, spending time with baptism mentors and preparing for Pentecost.

In addition to the weeks of preparation with our ministers and mentors, the baptism candidates will spend part of their weekend at the annual Baptism Retreat, May 13-14. During the retreat, the candidates will learn the details of the Sunday morning ceremony, spending time with pastors and Chuck and Belinda Davis, who were the first Sunday School teachers for many of our candidates.

All of the preparation for baptism is an integral part of Broadway's emphasis on faith formation for young Disciples. Faith education, promoting the active participation of children and youth in our worship services, and welcoming the presence of young children and those with special needs in our worship, are all part of the faith formation journey at Broadway. The first steps toward baptism happen every Sunday, and long before fifth grade!

In worship bulletins on May 15, there will be a list—a very long list. The names of all those who have been baptized at Broadway during the past 58 years is an impressive one. Next year, the 2016 baptismal candidates will see their names added. And they will forever be a part of the history of Broadway and forever a part of the Body of Christ.

On Pentecost Sunday, our newly baptized Disciples will join disciples of ages past—stepping out into a skeptical world in uncertain times, but equipped with the knowledge that Jesus (and Broadway) will walk alongside them.

They came to be called Rites of Passage, the ceremonies that mark critical passages of life. I know for me these occur regularly, some anticipated and others not.

During the span of one month I will have married, buried, baptized, dedicated and blessed people as they moved from one state of being to another. Some of those are developmental; coming of age is marked by rituals that escort young people into adulthood. Others represent passages of crisis, life changing at the extremities. We walk a tight wire between life and death, love and loss, and the past and the future.

One phenomena that takes place in rituals of transformation is liminality. This is the state of being in-between the times or places: I used to be this way but now that's gone. I lost what used to define me so now I must find another. The world shifts and new worlds groan into being.

Liminality is powerful because when all the balls are in the air we are also positioned at an intersection of great possibility. The Bible is full of symbolism of liminality. Rivers often represent liminal passages – crossing the river, walking the waters, plunging beneath. So does wilderness wandering. And the number forty is always laden with liminal significance. Jesus spends forty days in the wilderness, between here and there, tested and tried, so that he may be transformed toward his destiny.

And yet liminal times and the people who pass through them may be perceived as dangerous. The person who has just passed through a death or divorce or deployment or drug rehab is outside the structure of the normal. They are enchanted, sometimes even fearful to others.

Since life is in a perpetual state of change and nothing is permanent it is fair to say that life itself is liminal. Just as we adjusted to the last shift another one appears. And everything on the inside of us is in flux as well. If there is one powerful way to describe what the church is called to do it is this: We are the ones called to stand in the domain of passage and places of change. We stand beside persons as they make daunting and critical journeys. We speak of the Lord of life who is the author of transformation and resurrection. Out of death and endings comes new life and beginnings.

We are people of the passage. Though we walk through the valley of the shadow of liminality ... we shall fear no evil. Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort us.

Tim's most recent book, Liminal Reality and Transformational Power, has just been released by The Lutterworth Press. The book explores personal and social transformation that is possible in times of great transition. The book is available on Amazon.

Talking and Listening to Heal Moral Injury

All the Way Home Begins Healing Circles for Veterans

Have you noticed? Men, in general, love to talk about their feelings—those intimate details that help others understand what is underneath the anger, the hurt, the despair.

As most of us know, that sweeping generalization is far from true. When combat service is added into a cultural reluctance to talk about subjects like stress, depression and moral injury, the results can be catastrophic. Suicide rates for combat veterans continue to climb and there is no easy answer on how to stop the relentless increase in deaths.

All the Way Home, along with other like-minded veterans' support groups, is taking the lead on working with combat veterans who are dealing with serious moral injuries. Moral injuries may never heal without the help of trained professionals, mentors and other veterans who have experienced the soul-scarring trauma of combat.

Healing Circles for veterans dealing with moral injury will take place at Broadway on the first and third Sundays each month from 2:00-4:00 p.m. The Circles will take place in the Loft. Healing Circles allow combat veterans a safe and confidential setting to talk about the causes and behaviors associated with moral injury.

The Circles are open to all, men and women, who have served in a combat zone. Whether that experience was in the Korean peninsula in the 1950s, or in the mountains of Afghanistan in 2012, the door is open. If you know a veteran who would benefit from this opportunity, but would like more information, contact David Hammer at nfo@vetsallthewayhome.org.

Broadway Member Shares War Experience

Robert Canine, along with nine other combat veterans, shares his own experiences in Heart of A Veteran: Life Stories of Service, Courage and Resilience. Heart of A Veteran is a collection of ten essays, written by veterans themselves, which chronicle their time in combat, and their journey to healing—physically, emotionally and spiritually.

The book is available on Amazon in a Kindle version, or you may visit the book website at www.heartofaveteran.com to place an order.

Card Ministry Is Part of Church Family Caring for Church Family

You pick up the mail and sort through bills, ads, junk mail--but what's this, a greeting card addressed to you personally? It's Broadway's card ministry at work.

When we know of a need for a boost, a caring show of love and support, a welcome or even congratulations, our church card writers are there. Of course it's important that you let the church office know when something is going on in your life. Sometimes we know, but sometimes we don't. And we want to be there to help.

Card writers are volunteers who respond to needs and write four to six cards or notes about every 10 days. They are people who have been trained and who work as part of a team. They keep records. And they always welcome more members of their team. Right now Carole Braun heads up a team of Dorothy Sprouse, Eileen Perry, Marty Taylor, Louise Larson, Jean Morrow, Barb Gahagan, Terri Tatum, Leslie Clay, Marilyn McCreary and Gay Gage. Just call Carole if you would like to join the team at 446-4369.

Those handwritten cards have a huge impact. Just knowing that someone went out of their way to write a heartfelt message can turn your whole day around. And you can read it again and again. Those notes are coming from your own Broadway family and they are eager to let you know they are thinking of you.

Next month we will discuss another caring ministry that has been around for a long time at Broadway: the flower ministry. There is a lot that goes on behind the scenes each week. And you can always be part of it by calling CareLink coordinators Patsy Dalton, 356.6036, or Linda Poehlmann 234.1950.

An Ordination Invitation to Celebrate with Hannah Fisher Ryan

On Saturday, May 21, at 1:00 p.m., please join the Fisher family and the Broadway family in a celebration and ordination ceremony for Hannah Fisher Ryan, daughter of Carl and Debbie Fisher and grand-daughter of Melvin and Virginia Fisher. Hannah has recently completed her Masters of Divinity studies at Brite Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, and it is time to congratulate and celebrate with her!

Following the ordination at 1:00 p.m. in the Broadway Sanctuary, join us for a reception in the Fellowship Hall.

As a congregation, Broadway will present Hannah with her first ministerial robe during the ordination. If you would like to make a contribution for this gift, please contact Ingrid at 445.5312 or iluckenbill@tanquility.net. Any donations received in excess of the cost of the robe will be given to Hannah so that she purchases commentary sets and other source materials.

First-Ever All-Church Field Day Is Set for June 4

Pie the Preacher?—Oh, Yes!

Greet summer with a big Broadway welcome at our first-ever All-Church Field Day on Saturday, June 4, from 0:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

What's planned for this outdoor extravaganza? An 18-foot inflatable slide, carnival games, relays, hot dogs and other summer-appropriate foods—and it's all free! This event is Broadway-family-friendly, meaning that everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend. Invite your child's friends and/or bring a neighbor. And no one wants to miss "Pie the Preacher!"

How does Pie the Preacher work? At the event, there will be three containers, each bearing the image of one of Broadway's three ministers. To vote for the preacher you'd like to see pied, just drop a contribution into the container. The preacher who receives the most contributions will be the recipient of the pie (in the face). And all of the money donated will be used to reduce the cost of summer camp for Broadway kids!

Check out the giving tree display in the Fellowship Hall for needed donations, both for Field Day and for Vacation Bible School. Volunteers will also be needed to staff the games and help out with set up and clean up. Contact Children's Ministries Coordinator Aimee McBride at 445.5312 or amcbride@broadwaychristian.net if you would like to help.

MOM Supports Patriot Place Veterans Housing

At a recent meeting, Broadway's Service Ministry, or MOM as it is affectionately known (Mission and Outreach Ministry), made an important decision—to support the partnership of agencies that are working to provide permanent, transitional and emergency housing for homeless veterans.

As the first phase of the plan for Patriot Place was nearing completion, the Columbia Housing Authority needed individuals, groups or organizations to provide funding for the small apartment furnishings and household items. Members of the MOM team approved the sponsorship of one apartment with reserved outreach funds. The contribution will provide supplies and furniture for one veteran's apartment.

Patriot Place is an outreach to veterans from the Columbia Housing Authority, the Truman VA Hospital, Veterans United and Welcome Home to provide a one-stop service hub for veterans. Patriot Place will not only include housing in studio apartments, but long-term plans include space for counseling, medical and emergency needs.

Clean Out the Car Console: Noisy Offering Is May 29

Pull out the sofa cushions, clean out the change jar and bring all of that loose loot to church on Sunday, May 28, for another Noisy Offering!

This month's Noisy Offering will be donated to the important ministry done by All the Way Home, which serves combat veterans who are suffering from the unseen wounds of moral injury. See the related article on page three of this newsletter.

The next Noisy Offering will take place on July 31 and is earmarked for Broadway's church camp fund, to reduce summer camp registration fees for Broadway families.

Broadway Outreach Making A Difference

The total for the 2016 Habitat Sale continues to amaze everyone! As of now, the Sale brought in $27,924.43 and with most expense receipts in, that will be very close to the final tally! God is good!

Service Ministry also participated in the recent Wine to Water event, with First Christian Church, Olivet Christian Church and Rock Bridge Christian Church. Broadway members provided appetizers and volunteers for the event, which raised more than $4000 for water projects through Week of Compassion. The total was more than twice the amount raised in past events—and we look forward to working with our Columbia Disciples friends next year!

The Countdown is Commencing for 2016 VBS

Vacation Bible School Will Be A Galactic Blast!

Four...three...two...one—lift off!

Vacation Bible School at Broadway is always a good time for participants and volunteers alike—and we don't want anyone to miss out for 2016! The first VBS planning meeting will take place on Monday, May 9, at 7:00 p.m. in the large Conference Room (near the office). Children's Ministry Coordinator Aimee McBride will need your help to make our 2016 VBS a blast!

Broadway's VBS returns to a morning schedule, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and concluding at noon, July 25-28. The traditional VBS Celebration will be held the evening of July 28. Volunteers are needed throughout the week, and childcare is available for all volunteers.

This year's VBS theme is Galactic Blast, so if you have any out-of-this-world decorations to decorate our classrooms and gathering areas, please contact Aimee. Also, please stop by the Giving Tree in Fellowship Hall, which will have items needed for VBS crafts, food and decorating.

And for our youth—VBS Drama Team practice begins July 5, from 9:00 a.m.– noon, in the Loft.

Youth Group Wraps Up Wednesday Nights May 11

The final
Wednesday
Night Live
Youth Group

meeting will be May 11— it is hard to believe that another school year is over!

Some surprises are planned for youth activities on the final Wednesday gathering of the school year, so don't miss it! A meal will be served beginning at 5:30 p.m. for adults and families and at 6:00 p.m. for youth.

Nick and Kahlea have some fun summer events planned—so stay tuned to your email and Facebook for upcoming gatherings. And save the date now for the Summer Send-Off on August 13.

Welcome Our Ministry Intern Staton Zaner!

We are delighted to announce that Staton Zaner, son of James and Stephanie Zaner, will join the Broadway staff later this month as our Summer Ministry Intern!

Staton was an active member of Youth Group while attending high school and was always ready to pitch in for ministry projects such as VBS. Staton will spend approximately ten weeks at Broadway, while on summer break from Truman, working in three areas of emphasis and getting a look at ministry from the inside out.

Staton will begin his time as our intern later in May—please look for him during worship on Sunday morning!

'Tis the Season for College Graduations!

Congratulations to all of Broadway's graduating college students. We rejoice with the families and students who have reached this milestone!

Trevor Muzzy, son of Doug and Gina Muzzy, will graduate from the United States Air Force Academy on June 2. On June 1, Trevor will be commissioned as a 2nd lieutenant in the Air Force. This year's commencement speaker for the Air Force Academy is President Barack Obama!

After graduation, Trevor will continue his pilot training at Shepherd Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Pete Stansberry, son of Ed and Syd Stansberry, will receive his Masters degree in Accounting from the University of Missouri this month. Pete will begin working at Williams-Keepers this fall.

Kate Okker-Edging, daughter of Richard Edging and Pat Okker, will graduate from Tufts University this month with a double major in Arabic and International Relations. Kate has joined the Peace Corps and will leave for Sierra Leone in August.

Jeanette Keeler will graduate from the University of Missouri with a Masters degree in Social Work this May.

Congratulations to our graduates and blessings for a bright and spirit-filled future!

El Salvador Mission Team Prepares for May Trip

Last Sunday afternoon, members of the 2016 El Salvador Mission Team gathered to begin preparation for their upcoming trip, May 29-June 3. Team members include Don Day, Jim Granneman, Michael Tatum, Ken Welty, Doug Garrison, Jan Jones, Barbara McLay, Emily Zaner and Laura Mitchell.

The team will travel to a Pacific coastal community to construct Eco-Stoves, a more efficient and safer method of cooking. Many El Salvadoran women and children suffer serious respiratory damage due to open fire cooking indoors.

It is a testament to the importance of our El Salvador mission trips that more than half of our 2016 team members have already made the trip at least once. It is a fact that the value of these trips does not come from the amount of work done by our teams, but in the building of relationships and the sharing that happens regardless of a language barrier.

Please keep the team in your prayers as they travel and work in El Salvador.

If you have not yet made your confidential pledge to Broadway's 2016-2017 operating budget, please contact Ingrid or return your pledge card as soon as possible. You may choose to make a recurring or one-time gift through Broadway's Realm system. Simply visit the church website and click on "My Account" near the upper right corner of the screen.

All pledges matter and all pledges are confidential. Contact Ingrid at 445.5312 or iluckenbill@broadwaychristian.net if you have questions.

Highlights from the April Board Meeting

The Board of Broadway Christian Church met for its regular meeting on April 26, 2016. The following is a brief summary of Board activity.

Information Items:

Personnel Chair Dana Fritz reported on the committee's progress in the development of Pastoral and Congregational Relations guidelines. The draft is in its third revision, and will likely be presented as an Action Item later this year.

Transportation Committee Report: Marilyn McCreary summarized the findings of the Transportation Committee, with the following recommendations: purchase two 14-passenger, used buses at a cost of between of $25,000-$40,000; the Board would authorize a mini-campaign to purchase the buses in fall, 2016; policies for bus use, scheduling and driver qualifications and training developed before a bus is purchased, and; Inclusion of a bus expense line item in the '16-'17 budget.

Leslie Clay moved that the Transportation Committee's recommendations be accepted in the form of a motion; Deb Ward seconded. The motion passed.

By-Laws Review Committee report: Leslie Clay presented the revised by-laws for their 30-day review. The revised by-laws will be voted on at the next Board meeting.

Ministry Reports

Connections: Dixie Fisher reported that preparations for the Ladies' Brunch on May 7 are well underway. The committee is looking for a few good men to volunteer in the kitchen during the brunch.

Property: Mike Crews detailed several repairs and improvements, including: a new water dispenser outside the Music Center; a new canopy light for the west CLC doors; repainting the preschool wing bathrooms; replacement of upholstered chairs in Fellowship Hall and Conference Room; repainting of outdoor signage. The Adopt-A-Spot program for Broadway flower beds and plantings is in progress.

Discipleship: Five adult Christian Ed classes are thriving. Deb Ward said that there could be a need for more classroom space in the near future. For CareLink, Patsy Dalton reported that the ministry now has an official logo, and is moving forward with publicity in Broadway's print and electronic media. Service: Nancy Miller summarized outreach activities: Wine to Water, a cooperative outreach among four Disciples congregations, raised more than $4000, with Broadway being well-represented; over $1700 was raised in a special offering for Ecuador earthquake assistance; all 200 plots in the Community Garden are assigned; the 2016 Habitat Sale raised almost $28,000; nine Broadway members will travel to el Salvador on May 28.

Worship: Vicki Keeling-Wallace reported that Broadway's Lent and Easter worship had undergone a review, with an eye on changes and/or additions for Lent/Easter, 2017. On June 12, there will be one worship at 10:30 a.m. with all musical styles represented.

Children & Youth: For Youth, Stephanie Zaner thanked the high school juniors and their parents who organized the April 24 Senior Recognition Luncheon. The final Youth Group for the school year will be held May 11. Camp registrations are being taken now. The 7th Grade Sexuality Retreat will take place on May 20. For Children, Shawna Schulte announced that Baby Dedication will take place on May 8. A VBS planning meeting will be held on May 9 at 7 pm. Sunday morning Christian education classes are very strong. On June 4, Children's Ministries will sponsor an All-Church Field Day from 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m., which include lunch, games and activities for children and families.

Following the Membership report by Ingrid Luckenbill and a review of church finances by Martha head, Commissioned Minister Terry Overflet presented the following Action Item:

- A scholarship award for Michael Tatum, who will begin attending seminary in January, 2017. The award would total $3000 ($500 for each of six semesters).

Following the Ministers' remarks, the meeting was adjourned.

Continuing Recovery...

... Jan Moore, Rusty Moseley, Kimberly Poehlmann Siemons, Dorothy Sorrels.

Our Thoughts and Prayers...

... to Roger Walker and family on the passing of his mother, Sylvia Walker, on April 15.

... to May Humlicek and family on the passing of her mother, Marlys Schroeder, on April 22.

Thought You'd Like to Know...

... Doug Crews, who has served as the Executive Director of the Missouri Press Association for 36 years, retires this month.

... Several Broadway members will be performing in local theater productions this summer. Tickets for musical usually sell quickly, so here's your "heads up" if you would like to attend!

Ryan, Emerson and Kimberly Kennedy, along with Russell Becker, will be performing in the Columbia Entertainment Company's The Music Man, which runs June 9-12; 16-19; and 23-26. Kay Cook is the Assistant Director and Choreographer for the show.

Spencer Rainwater will portray Oliver Twist in the Lyceum production of the musical Oliver!, which runs June 18-26 in Arrow Rock. Nollie Moore will also appear in the cast.

Nollie Moore will also appear in the musical 1776 at the Lyceum, which runs from July 4-16.
