

2015 Southwest Climate Summit

SAVE
THE DATE
November 2 & 3

- Climate-Smart Conservation
- Share lessons learned
- Explore adaptive management

Join us for a 2-day conference that brings together managers and scientists from across the Southwest to share emerging climate science, Climate-Smart Conservation results, management and policy responses, and lessons learned across the Southwest.

Dates: Monday, November 2—Tuesday, November 3, 2015

Location: Holiday Inn Capital Plaza, Sacramento, California

Theme: Bridging the Gap: Collaborative Science for Adaptation Management

Participants: Natural resource managers, scientists, public agencies, tribes, non-governmental organizations, and private businesses

Speakers: Secretary of the Interior Jewell (invited) and former Deputy Secretary of the Interior Lynn Scarlett (confirmed)

Climate Science

- Persistent Southwestern Drought
- Near-term El Niño Forecasts
- Limits to Spatial and Temporal Downscales

Focal Resources

- Forests, Rangelands, and Deserts
- Mountains, Coasts, and Water
- Nearshore Marine Systems

Social Context

- Tribal Resources
- Building Effective Partnerships
- Collaborative Decisions Under Uncertainty

For more information, please email Mark Schwartz, mwschwartz@ucdavis.edu