Quality Notice:

Providing the highest quality brands, products and services has always been at the forefront of Bishop Lifting. Our goal with the new acquisition is to combine best practices from all four companies and bring them into compliance with the ISO standard already set in place at Bishop Lifting. Our quality team plans to conduct rigorous gap analyses and internal audits to make certain that all locations are either certified or compliant to the ISO 9001:2008 standard. Bishop Lifting Products has been ISO 9001:2008 certified for over a decade and maintains an ongoing commitment to better our quality standards by developing policies, procedures and practices to drive continual improvement. As a company, we manufacture and distribute tremendous amount of slings and rigging products yearly, and our commitment to quality assurance demonstrates our long-term approach to the importance of a consistent product and service across all platforms. We have set the highest quality standards in order to meet and exceed your highest expectations.

With any quality related questions, please contact Matthew Wilson, Director of Quality, Health, Safety & Environmental at 713-702-9472 or email at matthew.wilson@lifting.com.
