CHARLES PITTS, JR.

"Education should be aimed at destroying free will". This is a quote from Bertrand Russell, who was an English philosopher, logician, mathematician, historian, writer, social critic, political activist, and Nobel Laureate during the 20th century. In his 1952 book, "The Impact of Science on Society", he states: "The social psychologists of the future will have a number of classes of school children on whom they will try different methods of producing an unshakable conviction that snow is black."

Charles Pitts, Jr., co-host and producer of the critically acclaimed Harambee Radio show "Connecting the Dots" (CTD), a show called "Blackcellence at Work" by Dr. Kamau Kambon of North Carolina. CTD is leading the way in explaining, defining, and exposing scientific animus as identified by Harriet A. Washington in her book "Medical Apartheid". Mr. Pitts will deliver this lecture "Is Snow Black?"

We have been strategically maneuvered into a position of mental submission through a designed educational program that subtly but effectively teaches us to be compliant, to acquiesce, to simply accept what is put before us. There are some absolutely critically destructive techniques being employed in the realm of science and technology that truly defy logic, and yet we know nothing about them or their impact on our world. However, these technologies are poised to control our very existence. Suspend what you think you know. Mr. Pitts will expose you to a world of sciences and technologies that has gradually been employed to induce you to believe that "Snow is Black."

Mr. Pitts has over 30 years of directing mental health facilities and conducting psychiatric emergency evaluations and assessments in the city of Philadelphia. His many decades of researching and studying have produced a different assessment of the plight and conditions that effect the Africa Diaspora and humanity as a whole. There is much more synergy and continuity of planning, intent, and purpose of white domination or supremacy than most of us are either willing, or able, to acknowledge.
