

Kate Donovan Bio

Kate Donovan is a Senior Energy Project Developer for Energy Industries' Seattle and San Francisco offices. Over the last 6 years, her focuses have been energy services consulting and project implementation. She has worked in all areas of energy efficiency, but has developed an expertise in energy efficient lighting and utility rebate acquisition.

Backed by the entire Energy Industries team, Kate's projects have saved her customers millions of dollars in Operating Expenses. Her client base is primarily healthcare, commercial real estate, wineries and aerospace. Kate led a Lean Energy Assessment program (LEA) that analyzed the energy consumption of 11 sites across the US for a large airline manufacturer. This assessment provided detailed instructions for energy optimization including renovations to HVAC, lighting and controls. She also initiated and implemented the utilization of a Federal Stimulus Grant Program which saved a high profile client over $290,000 per year on energy costs.

Kate is an active member in WSSHE, Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and is a board member for BOMA's Industry Partners Committee. In her free time, she sits as the Service Chair for the Amici Fulcrum Foundation whose mission is to provide Elementary Students and their families' financial assistance.
