

Help Children and Teens Get the Health Coverage They Need

Today, millions of children and teens across the country are uninsured but eligible for free or low-cost health insurance through Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). And in states that are expanding Medicaid, many more parents – and other family members – may now qualify as well. You can help reach eligible families by joining with the Connecting Kids to Coverage National Campaign, a nationwide effort to spread the word about Medicaid and CHIP and get eligible children and teens enrolled.

Here's how you can get involved:

1. Download Connecting Kids to Coverage flyers and posters to distribute or post in your waiting rooms.
2. Air the Connecting Kids to Coverage PSA (available in English and Spanish) in waiting rooms.
3. Sign up for the Connecting Kids to Coverage National Campaign Notes eNewsletter to get outreach and enrollment tips.
4. Follow the Campaign on Twitter and spread the word to your network.

This April, as open enrollment on health insurance marketplaces comes to a close, we want to remind families that people eligible for Medicaid and CHIP can enroll at any time. We hope you will join us. Look for more information coming soon.

For more information on the Campaign, including outreach videos and informational webinars, or to find out other ways you can get involved, go to InsureKidsNow.gov or call 1-855-313-KIDS (5437).