

Light of Easter Morning

In this holy season,
We rejoice that we have moved
From the wounds of suffering and loss
To the healing of a merciful love;
From the darkness of Good Friday
To the Light of the Easter Morning;
From the emptiness of the tomb
To the fullness of the Resurrection.

May we be like the faithful women
Coming on the third day to the burial place,
Who were charged with the Good News
Of new life, new light
Which calls us all to joy.

May we continue their task,
Knowing we are here
To walk together in community
And recognize the Risen Christ
In the least of his children.

- Jane Deren, Ph.D.