SR Construction Honored with NAIOP Award

LAS VEGAS – SR Construction, a local design/build general contractor founded in 1991, was presented an Honor Award at the NAIOP Southern Nevada Annual Spotlight Awards for its Hakkasan Corporate Office Tenant Improvement Project. The project is comprised of 53,000 square feet of improvements to the seventh and eighth floors of the existing Rainbow Sunset Pavilion building, including a reception area, administrative offices, open space remodels for creative, promotional and marketing departments, educational rooms, conference rooms, break rooms on each floor, and a meditation room.

“We are honored to have received this award from NAIOP, with so many great projects happening around the valley, it’s wonderful to have our work selected,” said Scott Loughridge, owner and president of SR Construction. “This was a great project to be a part of, and I’m thankful to work with the excellent team that made it possible. SR Construction is proud to continue to deliver innovative designs, new technology and top-quality service to all of our clients.”

SR Construction was founded as a full service general contractor with the primary goal of providing its clients with the highest degree of quality and the greatest level of service on each project it undertakes. SR works with clients through the entire design and construction processes, from lines on paper all the way through the completion of building, delivering projects on time and on budget that incorporate all of the client’s vision and needs.
