Elements Massage™ to Open in Rhodes Ranch

National Franchise Specializes in Satisfaction Guaranteed, Customized Therapeutic Massage

LAS VEGAS, (July 20, 2016) – Elements Massage® (Elements), a national franchise originally founded in Colorado and known for providing the most customized massage in the industry, is opening in Rhodes Ranch, Las Vegas, Nev., on Saturday, July 30, in the Durango Arby Plaza, 7060 S Durango Dr, Suite 113. This will be the third Elements studio open in the Las Vegas market.

Its owners, Dr. Tim Sauter and his wife, Christy, are excited to own a business dedicated to changing lives through therapeutic touch. They are both actively involved in helping others in the Las Vegas community through Dr. Sauter's dedicated profession.

"We are excited to open another business that is very local, community-oriented and can make a difference in people's lives," says Tim Sauter, an obstetrician and gynecologist at Legacy Women's Health. "We felt that Elements was a very natural fit and transition for both Christy and I to continue to provide client-focused care in our community."

"The Elements' business model really excited us because it's 100-percent in the people business," says Christy Sauter. "With this new Elements, we are excited to provide our community with an integral part of an overall healthcare plan through great massage therapy."

Founded on the healing benefits of massage, Elements differentiates itself with its meticulous attention to client needs. When clients book an appointment, key details such as the type of massage desired, specific pressure needs and the client's individual issues are discussed before pairing the client with the right massage therapist.

"When the client comes in, our therapists spend additional time to go over any concerns," adds Christy Sauter. "To make the client feel welcome, comfortable and relaxed, everything in the room is adjustable - the lights, the music, the therapist's touch. We stand by our services and we provide a membership program that is flexible and affordable."

Elements offers a membership program that allows clients to receive regular, discounted massage therapy services that can be shared with an associated member without a long-term contractual commitment. To celebrate the Rhodes Ranch opening, the Sauter's are offering a $49, one-hour massage for the first 200 clients who make an appointment for a massage and book before Aug. 31.

Elements Massage® is one of the fastest growing massage franchises in the U.S. The company consistently ranks number one in customer satisfaction* for its customized massages and continuing education for its therapists. The Elements Promise™ is the only guarantee in the massage franchise industry that is committed to providing the clients with a massage that meets or exceeds their expectations or the next massage is complimentary.

“We require all of our therapists and front desk personnel to get a monthly massage from one of our other therapists for their own self-care and to learn from each other,” says Dr. Sauter. “Therapists need to be treated well, because they work hard, and sharing massages helps everyone know who is really good at various modalities so we can match clients with therapists in an informed manner.”

The Rhodes Ranch studio has eight dedicated massage rooms and is equipped with heated hydraulic massage tables and a customized sound system. The studio will be open seven days a week and welcomes walk-ins.
