

With more than 350 communities across the country, we at Morrison Community Living have the pleasure of serving a range of incredible, diverse seniors. Each filled with different stories, travels and lessons learned, we thought it fitting to sit down with a few of our wonderful couples this past Valentine's Day and ask: What's the secret to a long lasting and loving relationship?

The result? An honest, refreshing, relatable and enjoyable Vlog (video blog) entitled "Love Advice from Seniors" which recently won the 2016 Bronze Telly Award. The Telly Awards honors the best in film and video productions, online video content and local regional cable TV commercials and programs.

In the Vlog, couples from Canterbury Court in Atlanta, GA were asked about the successes and failures of their relationships. Each couple expressed their unique story of how they met and what it took to make their relationship work for the long run. To be present and able to capture the background and stories of these couples was a powerful and impactful experience for our Marketing & Communications team. We credit these amazing residents – and our residents across the country – for the winning Telly and thank them for entrusting their wisdom and experiences with us each and every day.
