MOZELL SNIDER, MGH&FC MAY EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

SHELTON, Wash. – When Mozell Snider, mammographer and CT/x-ray technologist, was recently named MGH&FC “Employee of the Month” for the second time in her career, it was unknown to many that she comes from a family of radiology technologists. “My mom (Barb Putvin), now retired from MGH&FC, had this same job,” said Mozell. “And my brother is an x-ray technologist, too.” Mozell has worked at MGH&FC for the past 25 years and loves what she does. “I enjoy taking care of my community and helping people get through their situations. The older I get, the more I value helping people in the community.”

Mozell’s nominator summed her up by saying, “She continues to go above and beyond expectation to help improve patient care. Mozell is always quick to step in and help wherever needed. She offers ideas for improvement, is committed to our community, and strives to make MGH&FC a better place for patient care.”

The mother of two very active and accomplished college-age daughters, Mozell stays busy with their activities. Her older daughter, Paige has cheerleading duties at the University of Washington, Seattle; and her younger daughter; Beth is an equestrian and will be pursuing the title of Miss Northwest Professional Rodeo this September at the Rodeo Finals to be held in Prineville, Oregon. “They really keep me involved in their activities,” said Mozell. Between helping Beth out at their mini-farm and attending UW sporting events to watch Paige in action, Mozell and her husband, Steve, are very busy parents. In addition to this, Mozell is very active in her local church, Mt Olive Lutheran.

Recently, Mozell had major back surgery, putting ‘on hold’ her personal activities of working out at the gym and being a class instructor until she makes a full recovery. “I am hoping to get back to the gym very soon,” she declared.
