ENGAGE ... ENERGIZE ... EXCEL

Special thanks to luncheon speaker Tim Vack, General Manager of Modern Shed, who shared the behind-the-scenes story behind his company's recent television debut on MSNBC's “Your Business.” The show featured entrepreneurs who definitely think big, or in Modern Shed's case, think small when it comes to their upscale small dwellings used for everything from a yoga studio to guest house. What's new on the downsizing front? We know about the “man cave” idea – now it's all about the “she shed.” Check out the story on www.modernshed.com.

MEMBER OF THE MONTH
Kitsap Sun/Mason Co. Life Reporter Arla Shephard is congratulated by Chamber Trustee Greg Oldham (left) and Chairman Chris Ladner. Arla was recognized for her active participation and coverage of Chamber events throughout the year. Thank you, Arla!

North Mason Resources rolled out the red carpet for our Business After Hours. Special thanks to Cat Ross for all of her hard work. Cat (left) was honored as one of our citizens of the year along with Lynn Coffman (right) and Katie Hopkins of Kitsap Credit Union at our annual gala in February.
