

Initial training, including orientation will be required. The mentoring commitment is 2 hours per week, hours are flexible and agreed upon between mentor and ex-offender, for a minimum of 6 months.

This time could also include the ex-offender's incarceration and release periods.

As a mentor, your support is vital to the success of the ex-offender's reentry into their local community.

You may be asked to attend court hearings, and to be available at critical times, including the date of the ex-offender's release from prison.

By signing below, you agree to the above terms and also authorize the release of information for purposes of this application. There will also be a training that you will be required to attend.
