What does it mean to be a global citizen?

What is in your leadership toolkit?

How can you communicate more effectively?

What is your leadership style?

How are you perceived by others?

How can you improve your time management skills and be more accountable?

What are your values?

What risks are you willing to take to reach your goals?

What is your place in society?

How can you engage in global issues?

What impact do you want to have on your community and the world?

How can you motivate and inspire others?

The twenty students who will be selected for PAAC's Global Leadership Program in 2015 – 2016 will explore these questions, and more. This 9 month program aims to improve participants' leadership skills, including effective communication, appreciation for diversity, public speaking, goal setting, accountability, and conflict resolution. Our goal is to develop global citizens who are informed about global issues, empowered to make a difference, and feel connected with others around the world. Program components address personal leadership, social identity development, intercultural sensitivity, and global citizenship.
