You'll find more than books at Bloomfield Library

Need Basic Computer Know-How?

There's a no-cost way to learn the basics of computer use, word processing or the internet; or to get familiar with Word, Excel or PowerPoint. The library's free computer tutoring sessions resume in November. One-on-one sessions let you learn at your own pace. The tutoring is available to Bloomfield residents only, with a valid library card. Call to register for a Saturday appointment, offered between noon and 4 p.m.
