(Dinner provided)

Sponsored by a Rackham Diversity Initiative Grant, Sociologists of Color (S.O.C.), and the Department of Sociology.

Sociologists of Color

Presents:

What's great about grad school?

Consider Graduate School in Sociology at Michigan

Did you know that graduate school in Sociology is "Free"?

- All of our students receive five years of funding (including tuition, living expenses, and health insurance).

Did you know our recent graduates have gone on to careers in:

- The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation
- The Office of Homeland Security
- Major national research universities
- Liberal arts colleges

Did you know we have joint graduate programs with the School of Social Work and the School of Public Policy?

Even if you've never considered graduate school, come hear from our graduate students about what's great about grad school and what career opportunities graduate school in sociology offers.

Find out more about the department at the April 1st dinner with Sociologists of Color (SOC) or at: <http://www.lsa.umich.edu/soc/graduate/whychoosemichigansociology>
